The REACH Beyond Domestic Violence Board of Directors ensures that all intersect. We offer a variety of other services them. In addition to general support, Our advocates meet one-on-one with individuals, families, and friends to find ways to promote healthy relationships in order to reduce dating and domestic violence.

We have found your staff to be utterly professional, deeply passionate and extremely committed to mobilizing communities to take on the issue of domestic and dating violence. What started with one outreach education program in 1996 has grown into a comprehensive, community-based prevention initiative.
